

Seller Playbook

Intended Audience of this Playbook

The playbook serves as a centralised source of truth for the tools, processes, messaging, and behaviours that lead to successful HCP placements. It aligns expectations and equips every team member to deliver a consistent, high-quality experience to both candidates and internal stakeholders.

Recruiters (Sellers): These team members manage warm HCP leads, progressing them through the recruitment journey. They are responsible for consultative selling, building trusted relationships, tailoring opportunities to individual HCP motivations, and ultimately securing placements. Their role includes managing all stages of the pipeline from warm outreach to signed contracts.

Telemarketing Team: This group is responsible for identifying, sourcing, and qualifying potential HCP leads through outbound activity (e.g., cold calls, digital outreach). Their primary goal is to generate and pass on warm leads to recruiters, ensuring a steady flow of high-potential candidates entering the pipeline.

Sales Manager: Those who oversee recruitment performance, coach team members, and are responsible for ensuring adherence to process, CRM hygiene, and strategic goals.

Sales Support Roles (if applicable in future): Admin or support staff who assist with scheduling, onboarding, or CRM management as the function scales.

Marketing (Secondary Audience): HCP-focused marketing professionals who collaborate with the sales team on campaigns, lead gen, and brand messaging.

Supported by MARKETING

Drives awareness and lead generation through targeted campaigns, social media, and content aligned to HCP motivators. Collaborates closely with both teams to ensure lead quality and message consistency.

The Sales Process

The below six-step sales process breaks down sales activities into stages to help articulate the activities required at each stage.

The HCP Journey

It is important to align the sales process to the HCP journey, from “contact to contract”.

Roles & Responsibilities (RACI)

Stage	Telemarketing	Recruiter/Seller	Marketing	Onboarding Team	Sales Operations
Lead Generation	R	C	A	I	I
Prospecting	C	R/A	I	I	C

Handover	I	R	I	A	C

KEY

R = Responsible

Carries out the process or task

A = Accountable

Ultimately accountable for the process or task being completed appropriately by those responsible

C = Consulted

Not directly involved in carrying out the task, but may provide input or expertise

I = Informed

Receive output from the process or task, or have a need to stay informed

Business Development Taxonomy

We recognise that HCP lead generation and recruitment activity is rarely linear.

Leads and opportunities can enter the pipeline at any stage, from cold outreach to warm referrals, and the right next step will often depend on the context, timing, and prior engagement. Whether you're following up a referral, re-engaging a known HCP, or building a new connection through strategic prospecting, use the playbook sections most relevant to your current interaction. You can also draw on tools and guidance from later stages to help shape earlier conversations, everything is here to support you in progressing and converting HCP opportunities more effectively.

Salesforce: Our Single Source of Truth

Salesforce will be our source of truth – our relationships, the activities we conduct and the work we do with HCPs will be captured in the system. This will enhance our ability to harness useful information from the system and ensure we are servicing our current and future HCPs coherently and consistently. This can only be achieved if all users are committed to timely and quality data input to Salesforce.

Moving towards our desired state

Capture information in Salesforce including:

- Contact and Profile Information
- Activity & Engagement Tracking
- Lead Stage & Qualification
- Sales Process & Pipeline
- Conversion & Placement Details
- Reporting and Feedback

By doing this, we:

Understand what matters most to each HCP (e.g., flexibility, clinic style, income goals), allowing for tailored pitches and better clinic matching.

See who is open to relocating, working after hours, or seeking part-time opportunities, unlocking new placement options across locations.

Have real-time visibility into which HCPs are active, stalled, or need follow-up, enabling targeted action and reducing leakage.

Can track which marketing channels or campaigns are generating the most qualified leads, so spend can be focused where it works.

Slice your pipeline by career stage (e.g., registrar vs. FRACGP), clinical interests, or engagement level, allowing tailored outreach strategies.

Avoid duplicate outreach and provide context to each touchpoint by reviewing the full history of calls, messages, and status changes.

Key Considerations

- Match clinic need to HCP profile
- Customise outreach to HCP motivations
- Leverage internal warm leads and networks

What Good Looks Like

- Targeted and timely outreach
- Personalised value proposition
- CRM updated after each touchpoint

Must Be Completed Before Moving to the Next Step

- ✓ Complete initial profile in CRM, including name, location, specialty, contact method, and lead source.
- ✓ Check for duplicates or historical interactions.
- ✓ Tag source accurately (e.g., FB group, referral, event).
- ✓ Assign correct stage ("New Lead") and owner in CRM.

Key Activities

Research HCP Background and Motivation

- Review any prior notes or history in Salesforce
- Check LinkedIn profiles, clinic websites, and any previous lead activity
- Identify alignment with current clinic needs (location, availability, skillset)
- Look for signs of readiness or life-stage alignment (e.g., relocation, career changes)

Conduct Initial Outreach

- Make contact via preferred channel: phone, email, or LinkedIn
- Introduce yourself and Cornerstone briefly
- Be warm, professional, and human – goal is to spark curiosity, not pitch hard
- Focus on relationship-first language ("We work with HCPs like you who...")

Customise Your Value Proposition

- Tailor your message based on what you know or suspect matters to the HCP
- Use value themes: lifestyle, flexibility, career growth, community impact
- Reference similar HCP success stories where possible
- Avoid generic "we have jobs" messaging – be specific

Leverage Warm Networks and Referrals

- Check for referrals, past conversations or shared contacts
- Mention warm handover source
- Ask internal team members for additional insights before reaching out

Establish Initial Interest or Disqualify

- Determine whether HCP is open to exploring new roles now or in the future
- Set next step based on initial conversation (book follow up call, send materials, etc.)
- If not a fit, record reason in Salesforce or tag for follow up

Update Salesforce

- Log all contact attempts and conversations
- Include details on interests, tone, key motivators and early possible objections
- Update source fields

Organic v Proactive Prospecting

	ORGANIC PROSPECTING	PROACTIVE DISCOVERY ORIENTED PROSPECTING
Social Media Engagement	HCPs comment or engage with a post shared by the company or a clinic, prompting follow-up.	Targeted outreach to HCPs in relevant Facebook or LinkedIn groups, initiating conversations or sharing tailored content.
Events & Webinars	An HCP attends an event after seeing it promoted through peers or channels, showing interest without direct invite.	Inviting targeted HCPs to attend a hosted event or CPD session, followed by outreach.
Referrals	A new HCP reaches out saying they heard about the opportunity from a colleague or friend.	Asking placed HCPs or clinics for specific referrals and following up with suggested contacts.
CRM & Data Mining	A previously logged lead reaches out again or responds to a previous message.	Identifying cold/warm leads in Salesforce and reactivating them based on location or new clinic need.
Digital Campaigns	An HCP completes a form or responds to an ad expressing interest.	Launching a targeted campaign (e.g., "Live & Work in QLD") with call-to-action leading to outreach by the telemarketing team.
Strategic Partner Collaboration	A partner or clinic manager introduces a potential HCP unprompted.	Coordinating with internal stakeholders or education providers to access alumni networks or lead lists.

Must Be Completed Before Moving to the Next Step

- ✓ Clinical fit assessment
- ✓ Availability noted
- ✓ Key motivation(s) captured
- ✓ Objections or blockers recorded
- ✓ Interest confirmed

Key Activities

Review Lead Information

- Cross-check profile in Salesforce
- Check for duplication or previous activity
- Understand source and context of lead

Prepare for Qualification Call

- Review clinic briefs

- Unqualified (not a fit): Close out or reassign if relevant

Send Relevant Follow-Up

- If progressing: Calendar invite with call details
- If nurturing: Thank you note + re-engagement resource (e.g., career snapshot, success story)

Qualifying the Opportunity

To determine whether the HCP is truly a viable opportunity , both in terms of their potential fit with a clinic and their intent, readiness, and alignment with business needs. Qualifying ensures that time and resources are invested into leads who are likely to convert, reducing inefficiencies in the pipeline.

What We're Looking to Understand:

- ✓ Clinical Fit: Does their experience and scope align with available or upcoming clinic needs?
- ✓ Location & Flexibility: Are they open to available geographies and schedule formats?
- ✓ Intent & Motivation: Are they actively exploring new opportunities? Why now?
- ✓ Timing: What is their realistic timeframe for making a move?
- ✓ Red Flags: Are there indicators of low commitment, barriers to placement, or misalignment?
- ✓ Revenue Impact: Will this opportunity help fill high-priority or revenue-critical shifts or services?

What We Can Ask:

- "What kind of clinical work are you most passionate about?"
- "What type of environment do you work best in?"
- "When are you ideally looking to start?"
- "Have you worked in a model like ours before?"
- "What are your top three non-negotiables?"

Discovery

Discovery

Key Considerations

- Is the HCP's personal "why" clearly understood?
- Do they know enough about Cornerstone to feel comfortable proceeding?
- Have we uncovered blockers (family, registration, location, fear of change)?
- Are we actively qualifying them for multiple opportunities or just one?
- Are we mapping their preferences to the GP journey and clinic need?

What Good Looks Like

- Deep understanding of HCP motivations, values, and decision-making drivers
- Trust established through listening and tailored conversation
- Opportunity fit confirmed and tailored proposal in mind

Must Be Completed Before Moving to the Next Step

- ✓ Full discovery notes (motivators, blockers, career goals)
- ✓ Objections and how they were addressed
- ✓ Opportunity preferences (type, location, timeline)
- ✓ Tailored proposal created or sent
- ✓ Follow-up conversation booked

Key Activities

 - Career goals
 - Work-life balance
 - Family considerations
 - Values and priorities

Identify & Surface Objections or Boundaries

- Ask what would stop them from moving ahead

- Reassure without over-promising and position solutions where possible

Introduce Opportunity Fit

- Share relevant examples from the GP journey
- Describe potential roles or clinics and how they align with their goals
- Keep tone collaborative and tailored, not a sales pitch

Confirm Next Steps

- Gain permission to send tailored proposal
- Schedule a time to walk through it together
- Clarify decision timeline, stakeholders, or other influencing factors

Identifying and Overcoming Initial Boundaries

This is where many HCPs express uncertainty. Your role is to gently surface and address concerns to maintain momentum and build confidence.

Common Boundaries & How to Respond:

“I’m not sure about leaving my current clinic.”

“That makes sense. What would need to change there for you to consider moving?”

“I’m concerned about income security.”

“Let’s talk about what early patient demand looks like , would it help to speak to another HCP?”

“I don’t want to move far.”

“We can look at options close to home.”

Proposing

- Update the Green Sheet if not already done

Start Soft Prep for Next Stage

What Can You Do Next?

If the HCP is Interested:

- Set a time for a clinic tour or GP-to-GP call
- Introduce the clinic team (digitally or in-person)
- Prepare to move to negotiation stage

If the HCP Needs More Time:

- Book a follow-up call, don't leave it open-ended
- Ask: "What would help you make a decision?"
- Continue value-driven engagement (e.g., news about clinic growth, new role benefits)

If They're Hesitant:

- Use previous objections to tailor new angles
- Offer to talk through specific worries in detail
- Consider a light check-in in 1–2 weeks while keeping the door open

Deal Negotiation and Contracting

Deal Negotiation and Contracting

Key Considerations

- Are you using clinic allies (e.g. GP-to-GP calls) to strengthen commitment?
- Have you made the process feel easy, timely, and consultative and not transactional?
- Are expectations crystal clear on hours, role scope, and support?

What Good Looks Like

- Expectations managed on both sides (HCP & clinic)
- HCP clearly articulates verbal intent or accepts written offer
- Contract is sent, signed, and returned without unnecessary delays
- Salesforce opportunity updated with status and notes
- Internal handover begins in parallel

Must Be Completed Before Moving to the Next Step

- ✓ Contract sent and tracked
- ✓ Terms agreed and documented
- ✓ Salesforce marked as "Contract Sent" or "Verbal Agreement"
- ✓ Deal is reviewed with onboarding for alignment and readiness
- ✓ HCP onboarding prep materials or compliance items sent (if applicable)

Key Activities

Confirm Verbal Agreement or Intent

- Use a check-in call to align on key points
- Address final blockers or hesitations

Deploy GP-to-GP or Clinic Champion Support

- Offer a peer conversation if helpful to build trust
- Use stories of similar GPs who have joined

Send Final Offer or Agreement

- Ensure clarity on role, hours, location, and expectations
- If needed, involve team to customise contract template

Manage Timelines

- Set and communicate expectations on when contract should be returned
- Stay close and don't assume silence means no

Update Salesforce

- Move to "Contract Sent" stage
- Document verbal confirmations, agreed terms, and any negotiation notes

Loop In Onboarding

- Notify onboarding team that offer is pending close
- Share any red flags or special requests

Confirming Acceptance – What To Look For, How to Push Without Pushing

Signs of Readiness:

- Positive language: "I'm excited" or "This sounds like the right fit"
- Asking operational questions: "What happens next?", "When can I start?"
- Agreement on key logistics (e.g., location, hours, income expectations)

Pushing Without Pressure:

- "It sounds like this could be a great fit. Would you like me to send through next steps?"
- "Would it help to walk through the start-up timeline together?"

The Power of Clinic Connections

Why it Works:

- Nothing builds confidence like hearing from a peer
- It builds credibility, overcomes uncertainty, and shows what's possible

How to Use Clinic Connections:

- Arrange a 1:1 HCP-to-HCP conversation with someone in a similar clinic
- Prep the clinic contact in advance: focus on culture, support, income, onboarding
- Share stories , especially about early days and wins
- Tip: Leverage relationships. If you've helped someone onboard recently, they may be willing to speak to potential recruits.

Best Practice

Best Practices for High-Performing Sellers

1. Lead with Curiosity

- Ask thoughtful, open-ended questions to understand the HCP's motivations, goals, and concerns.
- Prioritise listening over pitching.

Log Everything

- Capture every touchpoint, insight, and detail in Salesforce.

Sell Consultatively, Not Transactionally

- Position yourself as a partner, not a vendor.
- Tailor conversations to the HCP's personal and professional drivers , not just the opportunity.

Know Your Product

- Understand the value proposition of each location , patient base, clinic setup, culture, flexibility, billing model.
- Stay up to date on what makes each centre unique and what success looks like there.

Qualify Early, Save Time Later

- Be discerning about who progresses through the pipeline.
- Use early conversations to uncover red flags or misalignments.

Use the Tools

- Leverage the full sales toolkit: email templates, call scripts, GP journey insights, and objection handling guides.
- Don't reinvent the wheel , reuse, refine, and scale.

Follow Through

- Be reliable, consistent, and timely in your communications.
- Sellers who follow up thoughtfully are sellers who build trust , and close deals.

Owning Your Sales Week

Help sellers prioritise high-value work.

Sample Weekly Rhythm:

- Monday: Morning – Review new leads and pipeline | Afternoon – Prospecting Block
- Tuesday: Morning – Discovery Calls | Afternoon – Admin & CRM hygiene
- Wednesday: Full Day – Meetings, Follow-ups, Proposal Preparation
- Thursday: Morning – Prospecting | Afternoon – Internal collaboration (Marketing/Onboarding)
- Friday: Morning – Pipeline health check | Afternoon – Documentation, Wins Review, Planning

Tips:

- Block time for CRM entry daily
- Don't let admin eat your prime selling hours

If This Happens, Try This (Troubleshooting)

Situation	What To Try
Lead goes cold after initial interest	Send a value-driven reminder + new clinic update
Proposal delivered but no decision	Book a call to walk through it together
HCP ghosts after call	Try alternate contact method (phone/LinkedIn) + send follow-up with social proof
HCP says "not now"	Schedule a re-engagement in Salesforce 1 month out
